

Bio for Reed Bienvenu (7-8-26)

Reed Bienvenu is an attorney in Santa Fe at the law firm of Kanji & Katzen P.L.L.C. His practice focuses on the representation of Indian tribes and tribal entities, both in New Mexico and elsewhere in the United States.

Reed is an experienced litigator in federal, state, and tribal courts, including in the areas of gaming, water rights, and environmental protection. Reed's practice also includes advising tribal governments, negotiating contracts and intergovernmental agreements, and drafting tribal codes and ordinances.

Reed previously worked at the law firm of Rothstein Donatelli, and he is a graduate of Harvard Law School. Reed grew up in Santa Fe, where he now lives with his wife and two daughters.