

Anne L. Taylor

Anne L. Taylor is Chief Disciplinary Counsel for the Office of Disciplinary Counsel of the New Mexico Supreme Court Disciplinary Board where she has worked since January 2002 as both Assistant and Deputy Disciplinary Counsel, before being appointed Chief in November 2020. She serves as the Disciplinary Counsel liaison to the New Mexico Client Protection Fund. Anne has a J.D. from Vanderbilt University School of Law in Nashville, Tennessee.

Paul M. Ritzman

Paul Ritzman is an accomplished attorney with experience in a wide-range of legal and management issues with specific expertise in health care, privacy and security, contracting and procurement, human resources and labor, civil rights, and natural resources law. He has extensive litigation, negotiation/mediation, senior management experience and he is licensed to practice law in New Mexico and Colorado. Ritzma previously served as the legal director for the Colorado Department of Health Care Policy and Financing where he provided legal advice and counsel on Medicaid federal compliance, among many other duties for the department. Additional legal expertise in New Mexico state government includes: service as deputy chief of staff and legal advisor for Governor Bill Richardson, general counsel for the New Mexico Human Services Department, deputy secretary/general counsel for the New Mexico Environment Department, special assistant attorney general for the Office of the New Mexico State Engineer and, as a litigation attorney with the Risk Management Division of the New Mexico General Services Department.

Jacob Maule

Jacob Maule is the Legal Bureau Chief for the State of New Mexico Risk Management Division (RMD).